*Subject to legislation being passed, it is proposed in the New Zealand Government's Clean Car Programme that depending on a vehicle's CO2 emission ratings a fee or rebate could potentially apply. There is a zero band in the ratings at which there is no rebate and no fee is payable (neutral). A vehicle with a CO2 rating above the zero band incurs a fee. The further above the zero band, the greater the fee up to a maximum value. Vehicles with CO2 ratings below the zero band are eligible for a discount (rebate), up to a maximum.
